"Puttin' on the Ritz: Majestic Grille's 5th Anniversary Party"

POSTED BY HANNAH SAYLE

FRIDAY MAY 27, 2011.

Fedoras off to the Majestic Grille on their film noir-themed fifth anniversary party last night. Complete with a jazz quartet, a swing band, a champagne toast, candy cigar and cigarette girls, and guests dressed to the nines in '40s-style garb, the anniversary was a gangbuster event.

Of course, there was food: cheeseburger sliders, fried green tomato sliders with bacon, an array of cheeses and charcuterie, homemade chips with blue cheese, and more.

While Tommy set up guests for their photos and helped them pick from a variety of '40s-era props, Bennett hung the finished photo strips around the room. The photos will remain on display for a couple of weeks, so be sure to stop by and look for familiar faces.

Congratulations to the Majestic on five successful years.
